Unit 7 | Outlining Your Ideas

Outline

I. Introduction
a. The number of students with ADHD is on the rise
b. Teachers have to adjust their instructional methods and use nontraditional strategies to reduce the stress these students feel and improve their academic performance.

II. ADHD is a disability and it affects students in every level of their lives.
   a. It affects their interaction with people their age
   b. It affects their relationship with teachers
   c. It affects how they learn

III. What can parents do to help their children?
   a. Parents should seek medical treatment
   b. Therapy is often times needed
   c. Medication is often prescribed

IV. What can teachers do?
   a. Teachers can use peer instruction
   b. Teachers can modify instruction by using games and manipulatives
   c. Teachers can use computer assisted instruction

V. Adjusting instructional methods will allow teachers to meet the ADHD students' needs.