Assignment 3

Unit outcomes addressed in this activity:

- Explain the role of cultural and religious food laws in our society

Course Outcome(s)

NS440-3: Explain laws and regulations related to food safety and food quality.

GEL 5.1: Identify human expressions within cultures

Instructions

You work in the food service department of a large hospital. The holidays are coming up and you have identified a number of patients that follow either Kosher or Halal food laws. You approach the food service director about this issue and he says he does not have time to deal with it. You realize that these cultural preferences should not be ignored.

In a 2–3 page report, explain how you would respectfully defend your positions (and your patients) to your food service director. As part of your paper, include a special holiday menu for either the Kosher or Halal Food Laws and for the regular diet. Keep in mind that the two menus should be as close as possible to each other because your food service director will need to save money and the hospital will try to offer patients the same level of service.
