Team Ethics Brochure

Team Work Guideline:

In order to work collaboratively and complete the Assignment in an organized and meaningful way, you will be working together in a team forum.

• Begin to plan how you will most effectively work with one another. It is often helpful to appoint a Team Leader who will help keep the team on track.
• Review reading materials, websites, and all other resources from the course and decide how you collectively want to organize the brochure.
• Decide as a team how you will focus the brochure, what materials you will use, and what you will incorporate in the brochure.
• Decide as a team how the work will be divided. Who will be responsible for what portion of the content? How will you equally divide the work?

THESE DECISIONS AND DIALOGUES OCCUR IN THE TEAM FORUM ONLINE.

Description:

The team will create an informational brochure that could be used for pre-licensure nursing students to inform them of the guidelines and procedures for protecting research participants.

1. Describes the guidelines and procedures for protecting human subjects in research.
   a. Brief historical overview of need for protecting human subjects
   b. Legal and ethical issues relevant to nursing research
   c. Role of the IRB
   d. Procedures of Protection for all research participants
      • Privacy and confidentiality
      • Presents considerations for participant recruitment and informed consent
      • Special Considerations for At-Risk populations

2. Provides a section delineating frequently asked questions about protection of human subjects with answers provided (FAQ’s).

Directions:

1. Team members identified.
2. The brochure has attractive formatting and well-organized information and is presented as a tri-fold.
3. Trifold must use all SIX sides and must fold properly.
4. Graphics go well with the text and there is a good mix of text and graphics.
5. Differences in type size and/or color are used well and consistently.
6. Capitalization and punctuation are correct throughout the brochure.
